Virtual War Memorial Australia
Research Checklist – WW I

This fact sheet will guide you through researching an individual who served Australia in World War One. The first page points you in the direction of resources that will give you basic details about the individual and their service. The second page helps you to take your research further and locate more detailed information.

1. AIF PROJECT

Lists individuals by name, service number, location and regiment. You can use the service number and this site to ensure the person you are researching is the one you want.

Extending Your Research

This page is for those who want to take their research to the next level. The following resources will help you to develop a better understanding of the experiences of your serviceman or servicewoman.

6 AWM – AIF UNIT DIARIES

These record the daily activities of headquarters, formations and units. You will need to know the unit and class (eg. Infantry) in which your individual served.

7 AWM – COLLECTIONS

The AWM holds thousands of sources including photographs, letters and personal diaries. Even if your person did not leave a record, there may still be evidence about them in the records of others. Check records linked to their unit

8 STATE LIBRARY OF SOUTH AUSTRALIA

The State Library holds a large collection of books, digital resources and private collections. Use the advanced search to find out more about the unit and perhaps uncover a personal collection
